

Kris Putnam-Walkerly, MSW, is a strategic advisor to foundation leaders and high-wealth donors and across the globe, helping them transform their giving and catapult their impact. She's advised over 60 foundations and philanthropists to strategically allocate and assess over $350 million in grants and gifts, including leading funders such as the Charles and Helen Schwab Foundation, David and Lucile Packard Foundation, Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, Annie E. Casey Foundation, and Walton Family Foundation. Kris is the author of Confident Giving: Sage Advice for Funders, which was named one of the 10 Best Corporate Social Responsibility Books, and she was also one of America's Top 25 Philanthropy Speakers.