

Timothy Gibson has worked in the financial industry since 2010 and joined Merrill Lynch in 2011. He works with individuals and small business owners on developing financial strategies.

Timothy's approach to financial management is to cultivate a one to one relationship by earning the trust of clients, Timothy's area of focus is custom strategies to meet clients' individual needs. He has worked in the field of business management since 1999, bringing years of both educational and practical experience.

Timothy holds a Bachelors of Business Management and Administration from North Carolina Central University, and a M.B.A from Colorado Technical University. Timothy currently resides in Greensboro, NC with his wife Kate and his daughter Elizabeth and Kimberly. He is very active in the nonprofit community with a passion for economic and community development. He currently sits on several nonprofit boards.