

George E. Montgomery, II

George Montgomery is federal employee working at West Virginia State University in Institute, West Virginia. His academic background is root in Agricultural Studies. He received a B.S. degree in Agronomy at Alcorn State University and M.S degree in Soil Science, concentrating in Soil Physics, from the University of Arkansas. He has served the public through the United State Department of Agriculture for 21 years. The various academic and professional achievement experiences are the results of a community's input of key standards and work ethic. As a native Mississippian, he has resided in various towns and cities in Illinois, Arkansas, Minnesota, Mississippi and West Virginia as a result of professional pursuits. Mr. Montgomery has a passion for assisting others in reaching set goals and encouraging youth to see beyond themselves and today; all hands on deck is the order of the day.